

The worksheet contains ten identical sets of horizontal lines, each set consisting of three lines: a solid blue line at the top, two dashed green lines in the middle, and a solid brown line at the bottom. These lines are intended for handwriting practice, with the blue line representing the sky, the green lines representing the grass, and the brown line representing the ground.

How to use this worksheet: Green is for the grass – all letters are between the green lines. Blue is for the sky – b, d, f, h, k, l and t go up into the sky. Brown is for the ground – g, j, p, q and y go down into the ground.
